Vandal Suspects Held For Court Appearance

The DIMMER VIEW

Hoover on School Violence

Directly from the pen of J. Edgar Hoover is a communication to the college youth of America.

His opinion cannot be disregarded on matters of crime and what he says here should be considered carefully by those who want schools to remain meaningful in our republic.

Says Hoover:

"Millions of college students are returning to campuses throughout the country to begin the fall semester. They represent both the hope and the shape of the future. From the standpoint of educational opportunities and intelligence, they are far better equipped than any preceding generation to participate constructively in developing solutions to the many complex problems confronting our Nation.

"It can be expected that most of these young people will fulfill the promise they represent to us. In so doing, they will join hands with the millions of Americans of good will who actively seek meaningful solutions to our social life. If our joint progress in this regard is impeded and deterred, much of the trouble will come from a growing band of self-styled revolutionaries who are using college campuses as a base for their destructive activities. This comparatively small group of arrogant, hard-core militants have contempt for the majority and our democratic processes. They regard themselves as the nucleus of an elite dictatorial ruling class of the future.

"These extremists openly avow that their aim is to overthrow the existing order. Under the guise of academic freedom and freedom of speech, they profess to seek a dialog, when actually what they seek is a confrontation with established authority to provoke disorder. Through these confrontations, they expect to smash first our educational structure, then our economic system and finally our government itself.

"It is vitally important to recognize that these militant extremists are not simply faddists or "college kids" at play. Their cries for revolution and their advocacy of guerrila warfare evolve out of a pathological hatred for our way of life and a determination to destroy it. The workshops they hold on sabotage and how to use it to further their objectives are grim forebodings of serious intent.

"This New Left movement, as it is known, is growing both in numbers and varied forms of violence. Last spring, major disorders precipitated by the revolutionary adherents of the movement occurred on a number of college campuses. In the violent uprising at Columbia University, militant students and outsiders took over several buildings and committed senseless and deliberate destruction. The incident triggered similar disturbances on other campuses. Changes may be necessary and improvements in any institution can be made, but this is not the way to do it.

"Encouraged by their "success" at Columbia, the anarchists in the New Left movement are boldly spreading the word that they intend to "create two, three, many Columbias," in the manner of one of their "heroes," Che Guevara, the Cuban revolutionary who cried "create two, three, many Vietnams!"

"The main thrust of the New Left movement arises from the concerted efforts of the Students for a Democratic Society. Many of its members and some of its national leaders openly profess their faith in communist concepts and their determination to "restructure" our society. One of the militant spokesmen of this group stated, for example, that "perhaps 25 universities linked to the movement would be too much for the police — for the dominant class — and we would get what we demand."

"The New Left leaders plan to launch a widespread attack on educational institutions this fall. They are relying on collegiate dissidents and militants to bolster and accelerate this drive. It would be foolhardy for educators, public officials, and law enforcement officers to ignore or dismiss lightly the revolutionary terrorism invading college campuses. It is a serious threat to both the academic community and a lawful and orderly society.

John Edgar Hoover"

Youths Arrested, Released, Then Held After Hearings

by Jack Pollard, News Editor

Two Lemon Grove teenagers will appear in Juvenile Hall Court Monday morning to answer charges on $5,500 of damage that was created in two Lemon Grove schools and the Lemon Grove Masonic Temple Hall on Aug. 17.

The two suspects were apprehended and arrested while in the Masonic Temple after it is believed that they fled from the Golden Ave. Elementary school while Sheriff's deputies were enroute to the scene.

At the same time, Kenneth F. Fare, chief probation officer for the county said that the two had to be released on Aug. 20 by Juvenile Hall officials, 48 judicial hours after the alleged crime.

The two youths were caught in the act of destroying the kitchen area in the Temple. After their release, this newspaper received many calls asking why they had not been held.

Fare said that the two were called into a detention hearing, on Aug. 29, after his department had received enough information to detain the two from the Sheriff's department.

Judge Vaughn ordered probation department officials to hold the two in Juvenile Hall as a result of the hearing until trial.

He pointed out that the parents are responsible for payment for the damage that was done in the San Altos School and the Golden Ave. School, along with that created in the Masonic Temple.

"Payment will be between the school district, the Masons, and the insurance companies. Even though the district may be insured, the insurance companies will probably want to make a claim."

At both schools, typewriters had been thrown against the walls, tables turned over, books thrown about, windows and glass broken, liquids were dumped on the floors along with other damage.

In the kitchen area of the San Altos school, can foods were opened and dumped out. Duplication fluid was poured out on to the floors causing the tile to turn in color.

Heavy damage was sustained in the teacher's aid and supply room as well as the school cafeteria. Papers, books, paint, glue, along with artificial snow were thrown on the walls and floors.

Duplicating fluid was dumped into office machines rendering them incapable of use. Tile on the floor has been ruined by the fluids.

The suspects took keys from a key locker and used them to enter other locked rooms in the school where they caused further damage.

A coke machine was completely ruined. They failed to get $1 in change in the machine. In the cafeteria they smashed a cash register that had its drawer open.

They poured flower, sugar, cola, grape juice and other materials on the cash register. After that they shattered the mechanical parts of the electric machine.

A note was found in one damaged typewriter saying, "Peace and love forever."

The teacher's dining room was left in shambles as food stuffs from the cafeteria supply room were thrown about. Cans were opened with the contents being dumped on walls and floors. Tape recorders as well as other equipment was taken.

This newspaper presents to our readers pages 4 and 5 as special items of interest concerning back to school information for area schools.

L. Lawton Honored At Banquet

Eighty persons turned out for a banquet honoring Lucius Lawton, recently retired assistant fire chief of Spring Valley, on Sept. 5 at the Memory In. community meeting house.

Richard Allen, a member of the S.V. Fire Dept. Board of Directors paid tribute to Lawton by comparing him to a light that keeps the community alive and for the work that he had done in helping to build the department to its current level.

Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin (D-San Diego), sent a letter of commending Lawton on his service to the community.

A cone shaped fire place was presented to the retired firefighter from the members of the community. Allen made the presentation.

At the same time, Earl Smart was presented with a plaque for his service to the fire department for his legal advise that he has given to them throughout the years.

Luke Barber, president of the S.V. Historical Society gave a brief history of the department to the persons attending the testimonial banquet.

Lawton joined the department in 1947 when it was a volunteer firefighting unit. He played an important part in developing both the volunteers and the full time department.

The asst. fire chief is the first full time firefighter to retire from the department.

FIRE-FIGHTERS: Lucius Lawton (left center) and Jim Osborn, (right center) are shown as they tug on a fire nozzle that has as much of a dynamic history as the Spring Valley Fire Dept. Lawton, recently retired fire chief of Spring Valley, honored at a Sept. 5 banquet, thought that he might, at that time, return the nozzle that was borrowed from the La Mesa Fire Dept., around 1949 to the man who let him use it. Osborne was a rookie on the L.M. Fire Dept. while Lawton was busy getting equipment for the new S.V.F.D. They had a truck and hose, but no nozzle. Frank Burger (left) S.V. Fire Chief, grins at the matter, while L.M. Asst. Fire Chief Tom Barnes lets the battle rage. In the end, La Mesa won, but turned the outdated nozzle over to Lawton for a keepsake.

Three Spring Valley Residents Arrested In Narcotics Raids

Three persons from Spring Valley have been arrested in connection with what has been tabbed as the largest narcotics raid that has ever hit San Diego County.

Netted as part of the raids were one woman, a man, and a youth. The two adults are being held in county jail while the juvenile is being held in Juvenile Hall.

Arrested in a Thursday afternoon raid last week was Pat Eileen Hymer, 24, of 7505 Central ave. She was arrested by police officers from that address.

In the second part of the raids, on Saturday, Ronald W. Freeman, 18, of 9634 Vista del Sol, was arrested and booked.

Detective Lt. D. A. La Motte, head of the San Diego police narcotics said that all police agencies in the county along with Federal officials arrested a total of 58 persons.

He said that arrests of persons came while they were at home or while visiting other persons. Only 47 people were picked up in the raids he said.

The remaining 11 persons were being held in jail on other counts or violations.

The Thursday arrests came after two police undercover agents had worked for three months, leading to the grand jury indictments for the raids.

Thursday's arrests came after a federal agent had purchased heroin wholesale at $600 an ounce. It can sell as high as $2,000 an ounce on the open market.

Others arrested were Jose Rodriguez, 28, his wife, Barbara, 25, Lorenzo Rodriques, 38, and a girl, 17 all who were at an apartment at 5715 Bates st., San Diego.

Five ounces of heroin were seized at that address, officials pointed out. The value was estimated in the neighborhood of $14,000 for heroin seized throughout the day.

In Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, arrests for narcotics violations by the Sheriff's office has numbered 254 boys and 70 girls throughout last year.

A department official said that the use of dangerous drugs, marijuana, and narcotics have shown an increase of 548% for 1967 over 1966's totals.

Other crime in the area by juveniles reflected an increase of 6.4%.

Flag Pageant Opens Season For Golden PTA

The public is invited to attend the first meeting of the Golden Ave. School PTA at 7 tonight when 18 men of the U.S. Marine Corps will present the Marine Patriotic Flag Pageant. The 20-minute presentation includes a musical background and a narrator who chronicles the history of the flags our country has had and attempts to convey the spirit of the nation during each of these periods.

The pageant began in 1960 when a San Diego elementary school principal decided to turn the exchange of a forty-eight star flag for it's fifty star successor into an instructive class for the children.

The pageant has been presented over 600 times before more than half a million people and aired on nation wide television.

This will follow the school's annual pot luck dinner to be held on the school grounds at 5:30. Also of interest will be the introduction of the teachers.

WATCHTOWER: Floyd F. Garrett, Bible lecturer and a member of the Watchtower supervisors addressed some 2,382 persons at Grossmont College recently at an assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

He declared ghettos, poverty, discrimination, riots and wars will soon be a thing of the past and that man will enjoy the wonderful things that have been created for his pleasure.

He warned, "It is well to remember that 400 years ago the Bible was banned; anyone caught with it was burned at the stake. In the near future it might be banned again. "But whether the Bible is temporarily banned or not," said Garrett, "God's kingdom rule of the earth will be the solution to all of earth's ills and I urge you not only to study God's Word but to put his worship first in your lives." Forty-one new ministers were baptized following a talk on Dedication and Baptism.

Area High Schools Open Monday

by Jack Pollard

High School students from Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will return to classes Monday morning in one of three Grossmont Union District's high schools.

Monte Vista High School is expecting some 2,126 student to pass through their doors on the opening day, while at Helix High 2,519 students are expected. At Mt. Miguel High, 2,565 youths are ready to return.

Construction during the summer months at the three schools has totaled more than $785,000. This is equivilant to the building of another high school in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area, according to school officials.

At Mt. Miguel, an eight class room addition being built, is expected to be ready in February of 1969. Major revisions have taken place in the locker and shower rooms in the physical education departments.

The school library is also getting a face lifting. The football field after being reworked will be ready for use in a few night league football games, however not other activity is going on there. Total construction costs run around $376,000 at the school for the projects.

Monte Vista High School is getting an eight class room addition at a cost of $264,000. The addition includes general classrooms, and a science lab. It is expected to be ready for the second semester use.

At Helix High School, a new unit is being built. This will include some eight rooms at a cost of $145,000.

Growth in the district has been moving at roughly 5% each year. It is expected that by 1970 some 21,000 students will be attending schools in Grossmont District.

In 1965, student enrollment was 15,000 while in 1967 it had jumped to 16,400.

The District Governing Board has approved the sale of $4 million in bonds for future construction. This will take care of the possible need of building another high school if enrollment continues to gain at its current rate.

Mt. Miguel will be the only high school of the three that will be operating with a staggered schedule. They will have students attending a six period day while the school will operate on a seven period schedule.

More than 700 teachers are needed to meet the requirements of the district to educate the students.

ASB Begins School Year Preparations

Mount Miguel's student government class, under the guidance of ASB president Marsha Leatherman and advisor Earl Peasley, has begun many preparations for the '68-'69 year.

Primary concern is Freshman Orientation, to be held in the Miguel gym on Friday, Sept. 13. This program, designed to acquaint incoming 9th graders with their high school, is organized and conducted by student government members.

Provisions for the annual Hello Hop, set for Sept. 27, are also underway. Ideas have already been discussed for the celebration of Homecoming Week in Nov.

Peasley, who is confident of a good year ahead, said, "I think this group, under Marsha's leadership, will do the best possible job."

He went on to express his hopes for better communication between faculty, students, and administration, suggesting that a committee be formed, made up of representatives of each group.

The purpose of such a board would be to exchange viewpoints on such matters as regulations and behavior.

Work still to be accomplished by the class before September 16 includes helping the faculty during Teacher's Work Week and planning student court and student council procedures.

Signs must be painted, skits for football rallies organized, and a sales campaign for ASB cards and novelties launched.

In the midst of the bustle, however, the class has decided to take one day off to relax. Sept. 7 they were on the beach for the sole purpose of having fun together.

Heavy Schedules Require Parent-Student Adjustments

When La Mesa-Spring Valley Schools open on Monday, Sept. 16, more than the usual number of children and parents will be adjusting to new school hours.

Dr. David Pascoe, associate superintendent, La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, said the principal reason for the change of hours is to provide for a bus schedule which will more adequately serve the primary grades staggered day program.

Schools dependent on bus transportation for some students will be on a special schedule for a parent-child orientation program. Parents of kindergarten children who do not know Monday's schedule should call the school office.

Parents of children in the grades 1-2-3 staggered day program may obtain further schedule information from their school office or on Monday they may send their child to school at the earliest starting time for the staggered program.

Some schools have mailed out assignment notices; others have posted class lists and school hours on bulletin boards and classroom doors.

School hours are as follows:

Navy and Marine Corps officers may also attend the classes.

Lemon Grove Elementary Schools Open Doors For 4,050 Monday

Lemon Grove schools open Monday at 8:05 or 9 a.m. and various times in between — depending on where you live.

On that day 4,050 pupils will begin to sponge up the conglomerate knowledge of 156 teachers.

The student population is the same as last year but the teacher count has increased by three, due to some special classes offered by the district.

The staggered starting times, according to Byron Netzley, district superintendent, is occasioned by six school bus schedules:

Pickup rules for buses are: kindergarten students must live not less than a half mile from school; grades one and two, 3/4 mile; grades 3-6, one mile, and 7-8, 1½ miles.

Here are starting times Monday for the various schools:

Golden Avenue	8:35
Monterey Heights	8:45
Mt. Vernon	8:45
San Altos	8:45
San Miguel	9:00
Vista La Mesa	8:30
L.G. Junior Hi	8:15
Palm Junior Hi	8:05

As usual, the school lunch program will be offered. It starts the first day. A hot, nutritious lunch sells for 30c at all schools except junior high schools, where appetites are bigger. There the price is 35c. Milk is a nickel extra.

Some changes have been made this year. Principal Harold Ball replaces Dr. Douglas Giles at San Altos. Dr. Giles accepted an administrative post with the South Bay School District.

Veteran Lou Poluzzi replaces Dr. Robert Sutton as principal at L.G. Junior High school. Dr. Sutton has been assigned as project director for state and federal programs — specifically, a head start-type state program to be offered for 30 four-and-five year old youngsters. These classes will be in the L.G. Lutheran church classrooms.

Nineteen new teachers have been listed by Sup. Netzley. These are Mrs. Diane Bailey, 5th grade, Monterey Heights

Mrs. Nancy Bower, 3rd. grade, H.M.

Mrs. JoAnn Burton, 1st. grade, Mt. V.

Mrs. Carol Casares, 1st. grade, Golden

Suzanne Davis, 4th. grade, Golden

Madeleine Folsom, 1st. grade M.H.

Mrs. Carol Hutzell, 4th. grade, San Altos

Mrs. Zoanne Bisson, 5th. grade, S.A.

Aleen Moore, 4th. grade, Golden

Tracie Oliver, 1st. grade, Vista La Mesa

Gail O'Neill, language, Palm Jr.

Louis Padula, 3rd. grade, VLM

George Peters, typing, Palm

Susan Rankin, 5th. grade, M.H.

Jeannie Roberts, 4th grade, VLM

Susan Schereschewsky, kindergarten, San Miguel

Joseph Wilson, math, Palm and

Mrs. JoEllen Warfield, reading, S.M.

The new teachers were guests of the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club Wednesday.

This year, Netzley said, there will be three 15-student classes of mentally retarded children, and four, 11-student educationally handicapped classes. This is in addition to classes for 3-4 year-old youngsters at the Lutheran church.

A math improvement project in the second and fifth grade classes at San Miguel and Monterey Heights will be inaugurated with two math specialists as teachers.

Seven reading specialists will aid pupils with reading problems in the first to third grades. It is the second year for this program.

Undetermined as yet is whether an apple will gain better grades for Johnny.

It's worth trying!

School Starts Here!

By Louise Chase
Women's Medical News Service

With school getting under way here are some tips on how to insure a healthy school year:

All school-age youngsters should be immunized against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, small-pox and, of course, measles.

All immunizations should be up-to-date. Boosters should be obtained when necessary. Measles, pediatricians remind us, is a serious disease which can lead to lifelong complications.

It is not a necessary part of childhood. Immunization can be obtained either from private physicians or through local health departments and maternal and child health stations.

Eyes and Ears

Eyes and hearing should be checked by a physician before school begins. If glasses are indicated, they should be of the shatterproof variety.

An ounce of prevention can prevent serious accidents. If hearing problems show up they should be attended to immediately.

Many hearing deficits can be corrected — and a lifetime of unhappiness aveted.

Traffic Training

All young children should be taught to obey traffic regulations.

The meaning of red and green signs; the importance of crossing at corners only. the necessity to wait for school buses well away from the road; starting across streets just when the light turns green and not dashing in the middle of the cycle; looking in both directions before stepping into the street — all these should be imprinted on the child's mind so that obedience to safety rules becomes as automatic as breathing.

Eating

Youngsters, even as their elders, need a balanced, nutritious diet.

Recent studies indicate that even middle-class families that can afford fresh fruits and vegetables, and milk, meat. fowl, and fish, often are malnourished as a result of ignorance or food-faddism.

All children need a hearty breakfast to start the day off. Avoid the hurried, on-the-run doughnuts-and-milk gulping.

Chocolate bars and potato chips do not make an adequate lunch. Instil a liking for a variety of nourishing foods early in a child's life, make mealtime a happy time, and lifelong gains will be the youngster's.

Exercise

Encourage exercise. In our car-oriented society, many youngsters never learn the pleasure of walking. Or of using the body well.

Physicians urge that youngsters take gym wether or not they want to. Few illnesses, they say, really require being excused from the gym period.

If your school has no regular gym class, perhaps you and the PTA can do something to remedy the situation. Regular exercise is as important for the growing child as for the adult.

Zoo Holds 'Hop-In'

The Wallaroos at the San Diego Zoo held a "hop-in" recently.

The family of 10 kangaroo-like animals hopped into their newly refurbished exhibit, located just below Elephant Mesa, and set up house-keeping midst more modern facilities.

Dr. George Pournelle, curator of mammals, said the exhibit has been narrowed to a width of 50 feet from front to back to permit closer viewing of the popular Australian animals.

The direction of the pedestrian path has been changed from a steep incline to a more winding walkway up or down to Cat Canyon.

"The sloping, rock-strewn terrain which the family of four males and six females call home is similar to that of their native habitat in eastern Australia," Dr. Pournelle stated.

"To make life in captivity more enjoyable they have been furnished with new feeding stations and modernized bedroom quarters." The Wallaroo is nearly as large as the Gray Kangaroo but with short, stocky limbs.

Often called "Rock Kangaroos" because of their propensity for rugged rocky terrain, they feed mainly at night on grasses in the wild.

The usually travel in small groups and are peace-loving, though old males can be savage, Dr. Pournelle pointed out. The hind legs are used to deliver powerful kicks.

The word Wallaroo is a corruption of the aboriginal name "Walaru."

Bus Fare Cut For Students

San Diego area students will be able to ride Transit Corporation buses seven days a week at reduced fares, with the purchase of a Student Privilege Card, according to Transit General Manager, Tom Prior.

He said that the cards will be sold for 50c through the elementary and high schools of the area served by the buses.

Student Privilege Cards will entitle youngsters to ride buses for the reduced fare of 20c for any one continuous trip including transfers. In most cases, this represents a savings in school fares of about two-dollars per month for each student. The card will apply to the current school year of fall-1968 to spring-1969.

Student Privilege Cards were instituted in June of this year, following the regular school year. These cards sold for 50c and entitled students to school-year fares for the summer months.

Grossmont Educators Hear All-Faculty Keynote Talk

Carroll W. Waymon, executive director of San Diego County's Citizens' Inter-racial Committee since its founding in 1964, delivered the keynote speech to the faculty and administration of Grossmont College during the first all-faculty meeting of the 1968-69 school year, Tuesday, Sept. 10, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

Waymon selected "The Black-White Racial Crisis — The Role of the White College" as the title of his address to the faculty and staff.

Before choosing San Diego as home, Waymon was a consultant on the staff of the Los Angeles County Commission on Human Relations where he lectured on education, employment, community planning, and racial prejudice.

While in the Los Angeles area he also served a consultant to city, county, and state agencies as well as civic groups; where he arranged seminars, workshops and conferences on inter-group relations.

Waymon's educational experience includes five years as a high school mathematics and science teacher in Philadelphia. As a practicing psychologist, he also directed a free clinic at a neighborhood hospital in that city.

He is the author of numerous papers and articles on human relations. He is a member of the American Psychological Association, Urbane League, NAACP, National Association of Intergroup Relations Officials, and the California Probation, Parole and Correction Association.

The Tuesday morning meeting commenced a week of preclass activities for all new and returning instructors that includes meetings of the Faculty Senate, and various professional organizations, as well as departmental meetings climaxed by registration of students on Sept. 11, 12, and 13.

Job Placement Jumps 30% For Student Summer Work

State Employment Director Peter Weinberger said recently estimates show that by the end of the summer work period a total of 160,000 California young people will have found employment as a result of the state's summer-jobs-for-youth campaign.

He said the gain in this year's summer job placements over last year will represent an estimated 30 percent increase.

Weinberger noted that the 1968 youth employment campaign — coordinated by the State Department of Employment — has already been instrumental in recording more than 140,000 job placements.

"This outstanding record of achievement could only have been made possible through the splendid teamwork of business, labor, agriculture and government at all levels," he said.

He referred to the leadership given the summer-jobs-for-youth effort by a "blue ribbon committee" headed by John Hay, general manager of the California State Chamber of Commerce. "This committee has played a major role in helping to make possible this year's increase in job placements," he said.

Weinberger cited Department records showing that State of California agencies hired 13,632 young people directly in summer jobs through July 26. This figure is expected to rise to some 16,000 by the end of the summer.

In addition, another 2,632 summer jobs had been filled for youths in state, county and local government as of July 26.

He said the youth job campaign is expected to result in a total of 84,000 non-agricultural jobs and 76,000 in agriculture by the end of the summer. This compares with an estimated 76,000 non-agricultural jobs and 46,000 in agriculture provided last summer.

According to Weinberger, many of the jobs have been filled by disadvantaged youths.

Aztecs Opener May Decide National Crown

"We have a long way to go before we move into our season-opener against the University of Texas at Arlington."

These are the words of head football coach Don Coryell of the San Diego State College Aztecs. Both teams are ranked as the top two in the national polls.

Coryell will be working his team hard during the next few days before they take on the Arlington Rebels. Texas was sported as third in the national last year.

Both colleges finished out the 1967 season year with identical marks of 10-1-0. Texas is the defending NCAA Midwest Regional champs while the Aztecs are the NCAA Pacific Coast Regional and NCAA College Division title holders.

Coryell will take his team into action with an overall mark of 59-11-1 since he started working with the club as head coach seven years ago.

It is going to be a toss up for quarterback. Both Dennis Shaw and Thom Williams are looking "satisfactory", according to Coryell. He said that the two have been throwing the ball well in scrimmage.

Flanker Tim Delaney and end Eugene Carter will be called upon. They place high on the Coryell score board. John Kafka has been singled out at a good looking fullback with strong blocking and fast running.

The Aztecs will be running out of the "I" formation. Currently the team is being worked hard in order to clean up their problems.

Halfback Harry Benjamin, junior college All-American who broke O. J. Simpson's JC rushing record last year, has showed spark. Halfback Mac Dillingham and fullback Lloyd Edwards are benched to protect slight injuries.

George Brown, 6-0, 231-pound sophomore from El Cajon, is improving at fullback and is looked upon to give the Aztecs depth in the backfield. The defensive backs are going through exhaustive practice sessions this week. According to backfield coach Ernie Zampesa no mental mistakes are being made.

"Marty Steeigner and Nate Wright looked especially good out there," said Zampese.

Offensive line coach Claude Gilbert has expressed pleasure at the way his charges worked the first week. "Their attitudes are great and they're all fighting real hard for a starting job," he said.

Bill Pierson (6-3, 250 junior) worked out at both center and strong side tackle last week and did a fine job, Gilbert said.

Veteran tackle Clark Wright also looked good in practice as did guard Bob Merrill (5-10, 216, junior) and center "AJ" Vazquez (6-1, 227, junior).

The Aztec tight ends, Del Pifer and Mike Oslin have turned in good performances during practices and have looked extremely good. Pifer (6-2, 215, junior) is a newcomer from Long Beach City College while Oslin (6-2, 222, senior) is a veteran letterman from last season.

Racing Highlights

The Sixth Modified Sportsmen Grand Prix will get underway at the Cajon Speedway on Friday night at 8 p.m. with a special 55 lap main event.

Some 20 cars are expected to move in on the main, with ten autos slated for a 15 semi-main event. Two ten lap heats will determine positions.

The winner of the main will take home a purse of $750 while another $750 will be up for grabs through the remaining events in the contest.

Feature on the twin bill will be Figure 8 drives. They will be out for a money bag containing $300. This will mark their fourth outing at the Cajon Speedway.

Lanny Pemberton of Lemon Grove will be in for a tight race. He is tied with Lyle Jaozuot of National City in third place with 290 points for the crazy-eighters.

Tax Override Chairman Appointed

Rexford L. Hall, president of the Grossmont Union High School District Governing Board, has announced the appointment of Karl Tuttle as Campaign Chairman for the Grossmont District Tax-Override Election to be held on November 5.

Tuttle, a resident of El Cajon since the 1930's and has served in many leadership positions among which are the Planning Commission, City Government, and the Grossmont School District Citizens Advisory Committe.

From 1958 to 1962 Tuttle was Mayor of the City of El Cajon. He is presently active in the Air Force Reserve, is president of the San Diego Airport Commission.

In accepting the position of Campaign Chairman for the Grossmont District Tax-Override Election, Tuttle made the following statement: "I share the concerns of our communities in the drastic alternatives facing us and our children which would either prevent or restrict them from continuing to receive the best education we can provide.

"I wish to impress upon the community the fact that the passage of this tax-override election is necessary to maintain the excellency in the Grossmont Union High School District from the educational standpoint and not for new buildings.

"The figure of $2.98 is requested as a ceiling to be available if and when the need arises. Under the prudent and wise administration of the Governing Board which has been conservative in the past, the taxpayers' money will continue to be administered with the utmost of discretion."

Girls Sports Looks Bright At Monte Vista High For 1968

by Scott McGaugh

Girls sports has been at Monte Vista just as long as the school itself. And yet girls sports have received the least recognition of any institution at the high school.

In many cases, the girls have fielded winning teams and even league champions with a few knowing about it. Swimming and basketball teams have turned in some excellent records over the years.

In swimming, the girls should be one of the top teams of the league this year. Kathy Phillips and Peggy Mustol (squad captain) are two that are expected to do well.

Helix should be the team to beat in the Grossmont League. Grossmont, Mount Miguel and of the Monarchs should battle for the number two spot.

Basketball will be next on the agenda. It should be hard to top the 10-2 record turned in last year, but many think it can be done.

Peggy Mustol and high-scoring Debbie Yaddow shoul supply the scoring punch. The squad will have all but one girl returning this year.

The girl roundballers are the ones to beat this year with their toughest challenge come from Mount Miguel.

The tennis squad from the Monarchy should show an improvement over last year with some added experience.

Kathy Jones, Stephanie Stainback, and Susan Anderson should carry the bulk of the Monarchy attack on the courts.

For the first time ever last year, the Monarchs attempted to form a girls track team. There were the usual tough spots to smooth over and it still isn't official. But with a little work, Monte Vista could have its first organized girls track squad this year.

The sports outlook for the girls this year has got to be one of the best ever at Monte Vista. The girls teams will be coached by Miss Marcia Bonini, Mrs. Dorothy Clinger, Miss Joanne Climie, and Mrs. Susan Sharpe.

Who knows? Maybe the girls can show the Monarch males just how its done in the field of sports!

Mt. Miguel Readies For Season Opener

Mount Miguel Matadors will be pitted against Granite Hills in the upcoming Grossmont District Football Carnival Sept. 20.

The carnival, an annual event which kicks off the football season, will be held once again at San Diego State's Aztec Bowl from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Student tickets with an ASB card will cost $1. General admission is $1.50; children under 12, 50c. Student tickets will not be sold at the carnival.

Seating arrangements will be announced the first week of school. Buses will run from Mt. Miguel to Aztec Bowl and back again for those students needing transportation.

The cost is 50c. Buses will leave at 7 p.m. from the parking lot in front of the school.

The Matadors will return to Aztec Bowl the following week, Sept. 27, to play Kearney High in their first non-league game. Bus service will again be provided each away-from-school football game.

Griffins Bout Imperial Valley Here Saturday

On Saturday, Sept. 14, the Grossmont College football team will scrimmage Imperial Valley College at Grossmont's field at 6 p.m. following the orientation day proceedings which start at 4 p.m.

Admission to the scrimmage is open to the public and is free. A barbeque at 4 p.m. at the Grossmont faculty will be held. Cost is 50c.

After the Saturday scrimmage with Orange Coast and Mira Costa Colleges last week coach Clint Whitfield said, "It was a success."

Coach Whitfield also said, "The team moved the ball well with both quarterbacks. Rick Riker and LeRoy Woods, directing. The defense also did well in stopping the rush and containing the los ass. Overall I was pleased with the scrimmage."

On defense Ken Stinnett and Mike Vidal both intercepted passes while on offense running backs Bart Williamson and Skip Milliron and Dave Storm all looked impressive with each averaging over five yards per carry.

This week's practice is leading up to the scrimmage with IVC will be mainly concerned with blocking and ball handling. Coach Whitfield said his staff will work on team execution against IVC.

The next two week's practice will be directed to their Sept. 21 opener against San Diego City College at Balboa Stadium.

Annual Surfing Contest Entries Begin To Flow

Entries for the 4th Annual Menhune Surfing Championships have started to flow into the Windansea Surf Club.

Andy Smith, Windansea representative, said that they are requesting applications for the contest to be turned in throughout this month.

Surfers and board paddlers twelve years and under should get applications from surf shops, fill them out and send them to the Windansea Surf Club, 717 Kingston, San Diego, 92109.

The contest, named after the legendary people of Hawaii, is sponsored annually by the Windansea group and features young surfers from as far away as Hawaii.

Trophies are offered to the champions, Smith pointed out, but an awards brunch, surfing movie and association with individual Winansea champions, make the contest fun for every little surfer no matter how short his experience on a surfboard.

For every dollar the U. S. spends on propaganda, the Soviet Union spends 10, according to the U. S. Information Agency.

The Jr. Pee Wee division will take on the local American squad in a match against East San Diego at 11 a.m. at Mt. Miguel while the Los Toros Nations meet La Mesa in Sunset Park at 10 a.m.

Reading Efficiency Laboratory Opens

A reading efficiency laboratory at the University of San Diego's new Educational Development Center is now available to the general public.

Dr. Gerald Sperrazzo, Director of the Educational Development Center said recently that the reading efficiency laboratory may be used by members of the public who wish to take the six week course now provided for regular students at the University

The laboratory is designed to improve reading efficiency first by analysis of individual eye movement followed by the application of tested scientific methods of reading improvement.

Courses start in the E.D.C. of the Alcala Park U.S.D. campus Sept. 16. Five 50-minute sessions weekly for six weeks will be given. Applicants may choose either the session which starts at 12 noon or the afternoon session at 4:10 p.m.

Inquiries should be addressed to the Education Development Center, College for Men, University of San Diego.

Signs Confuse Drivers

"Those triangular yellow signs that say 'YIELD' are confusing to some drivers inexperienced with their use," Captain R. Gautsche, San Diego Area Commander of the California Highway Patrol reported this week.

"The signs mean 'Yield right-of-way'. The driver approaching a 'YIELD' sign at the entrance to a highway or intersection must slow to a speed of 15 miles per hour or less, and if necessary he must come to a stop.

He must yield the right-of-way to vehicles which are so close as to constitute an immediate hazard, and he must continue to yield the right-of-way to other approaching vehicles until he can proceed with reasonable safety," Captain Gautsche said.

"YIELD signs are erected only at locations where the entering speed may not safely exceed 15 miles per hour.

That yellow sign should always be a warning to motorists that the intersection has special hazards, and special care should be exercised," Captain Gautsche said.

Freshman Orientation Slated At Mt. Miguel

Freshman orientation will be held at Mount Miguel High School Gym at 8:30-12 a.m., Sept. 13. All incoming freshmen are expected to attend.

Newcomers will be welcomed at a general assembly by Principal Melvin Grant and ASB President Marsha Leatherman. Vice Principal Richard McGarvey and Earl Peasley, ASB advisor, will also speak.

Freshman will be divided into seminars to be conducted by student government members. There they will learn of the school's clubs and activities, sports and traditions, and cheerleaders will be on hand to teach favorite Matador cheers.

Class schedules will be given out and the freshman will go through "dummy" runs to their classrooms. ASB cards will be on sale for $5.

Refreshments will be provided.

College Ave. Extension Decision Back to Study

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors were unable to decide Tuesday on a specific plan for the right of way of College ave. from Federal to 69th st. in Lemon Grove.

An alignment that would take the new road through the property of the Hilltop Chateau was recommended by the planning comission, but Supervisors De Graff Austin and Frank Gibson favored an alignment to the west that would take the Bible Presbyterian Church.

Austin's motion to refer the matter back to the commission was defeated three to two.

Robert Cozens' motion to accept the commission recommendation was defeated for lack of a second.

The board then closed the hearing and members not familiar with the location will make an inspection.

Hilltop Chateau, a retirement-convalescent home, entered a strong protest about the eastern route which would pass within 60 feet of some units and split the property, although the portion split off would be large enough to be usable.

County Engineer David K. Speer said the western route would be about $54,000 more expensive because more fill dirt would be needed. The eastern route, he said, would cost $278,000.

Speer said the road, scheduled for 1972, would be a major road with 102 feet of right of way.

If the road was available today, Speer said, it would be carrying 10,000 cars a day with an ultimate traffic load of 30,000 cars a day.

L.G. Library Saved! County Renews Lease

The County Right of Way Department Tuesday signed a lease renewal with John Durham by which the Lemon Grove branch of the County Library will remain in its present location, 7735 Pacific st., for the next five years. It is yet to be approved by the Board of Supervisors.

The lease was presented by Ralph Weismann, representing the County.

The lease was for the same amount as it had been for the past ten years, Durham said. He had previously asked for a $25 a month increase but this was apparently negotiated out of the new lease.

The County has begun negotiations for leasing the former Post Office building with plans to move the Library to Broadway. Strong opposition to that plan occurred when this newspaper editorially attacked the proposal.

Many individuals had sent funds to this newspaper in support of its Save Our Library project when the announcement came early Wednesday. These funds will be returned.

Opposition was based on the belief that the Broadway location was unsuitable, unsafe and un-aesthetic.

Last Day To Register

If you failed to vote in the last general, the Registrar of Voters would have sent a postcard advising that your registration was being canceled unless you re-registered.

The law says that to be eligible to vote in the presidential election Nov. 5, affiant must be at least 21 years of age at the time of election, a citizen of the United States 90 days, and a resident of the State one of the County 90 days, and of the precinct 54 days preceding the election.

School Damage Set at $5,000

Paul Reynolds, Lemon Grove School District Business Manager, told trustees Tuesday night that enough equipment had been recovered from the August 8-10 vandalism acts that the loss would be $5,000-$5,500.

He said that the deputies assigned to the job by the Sheriff had done an outstanding job.

Savings were made by some of the equipment being repairable.

First estimate of the loss was $10,000. Schools vandalized were San Altos and Golden Ave. The L.G. Masonic Temple also suffered at the hands of the same pair of vandals.

Probation department hearing for two youths involved in the crime is set for Sept. 16.

Utt Top Vote Getter

Congressman James B. Utt (R-35th) emerged from the June primary elections with more votes than any Congressional candiate from any party in the state of California, according to the California Statement of Vote released by Frank M. Jordan, Secretary of State.

Running against two primary opponents, Utt amassed a total of 98,343 votes, while his opponents gathered a combined total of only 32,978 votes.

Congressman Bob Wilson, (R-36th) of San Diego, also running unopposed in the primary, was second most popular Republican, receiving a total of 75,337 votes.

FIRE DAMAGE: Sprng Valley fire chief Frank Burger (right) is shown as he looks over a pile of wood and other materials in the rear of 1235 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley after fire swept over a half acre of grass, burning part of a fence, a wood pile and other matter.
Capt. Ron Lucas (left) with his back to the photo, responded to the Friday afternoon call along with two engine companies. Officials said that cause of the blaze is believed to be children playing with matches.
Chief Burger said, "Someday, if parents do not do something about instructing their kids about matches, we are going to find a child cremated in one of these grass fires. We have been lucky to date."

MAIL BAG

Reverend Frank B. Gigliotti
3785 Gigliotti Drive
Lemon Grove, California 92045

Dear Doctor Gigliotti:

Thank you for your letter of August 30, 1968 expressing concern over the recent incidents of malicious damage which occurred in the Lemon Grove area.

I can assure you that the Probation Department is as concerned as anyone about the fact that these things do occur, and makes every attempt to take proper action on behalf of both the children and the community.

The case has not been closed. Petitions have been filed in Juvenile Court, and the Court hearing is scheduled for Sept. 16. Also the boys were required to appear at a detention hearing before Judge Vaughn on August 29, after full information had been obtained from the Sheriff's Office.

After the Probation Department recommended the boys' detention pending Court hearing, Judge Vaughn concurred, and the boys are presently in custody at Juvenile Hall.

As far as the amount of damage done and the responsibility for its payment, this is a matter between the parents and the victims. Neither boy has had a history of difficulty in the past, and both have been cooperative in recovering many of the items taken.

Our Department is making a thorough investigation and developing a suitable plan to recommend to the Court at the hearing.

I do hope that this information will be of some help to you. If we may be of further service to you, please get in touch with us.

Sincerely yours,
KENNETH F. FARE
Chief Probation Officer

Around Spring Valley

Admission Day History Marked Locally

By Tommy Thomas

According to history California was admitted to the Union on Sept. 9, 1850, so we celebrated "Admission Day" of the 118th year on Sept. 9, 1968.

A lot has happened in the state during those 118 years of statehood and a lot has happened right here in Spring Valley. Those of you who have read Spring Valley history, know the community began with the name "Springs of St. George."

I was talking recently with Eileen Smith, S.V. (unofficial) historian and vice president of the Spring Valley Historical Society and her husband Ronnie, and family (the Smith's) came here in 1912 and Eileen's family, the Golden's, came here in 1925.

Ron said when he moved to the Valley, there were just 50 families here. Eileen said when she came here there were about 1000 persons in the Valley.

To go back earlier, there are figures in the Library at Berkeley, that indicate that in the 1870's, the names and occupation of every Spring Valley person, was recorded.

Much later than the 1925's the County posted a sign along Campo road, stating that the population of Spring Valley was 1900. That figure stayed posted for several years until the Chamber of Commerce "got on the ball" and had the sign changed to conform with the correct population of the area.

Now, in later years, since the Fire Department has expanded and since the area has expanded its boundaries, we have approximately 33,000 people living here . . . and growing all the time, as indicated by the construction of new schools and shpping areas. We have a lot "to admit" this "Admission Day."

A number of you older residents of the area, will recall that at one time Spring Valley had several large grape vinyards. Admission Day in those early days was also "Grape Day".

Many of us would pack up for a day's outing and travel to Escondido or some other large grape-growing community, where we could have all the grapes we could eat, free of charge, along with much celebrating by the community.

Those beautiful southern California grape vinyards are gone and now replaced by homes and business places.

I was interested in a recent short item in the California Feature Service, titled "Admission Day," which I would like to pass along;

In the 118 years since it was admitted as the 31st of the United States, on September 9, 1850, California has taken over as national leader in a number of fields.

It is the largest in population. It is the leading agricultural state. It is the giant of the air and space industry. It is a political power with few peers.

Of course, it probably has the most hippies, too. But being the best inevitably has some drawbacks. So, keeping our eyes averted from the acid acres of the state's Haight-Ashburys, we salute our California on Admission Day.

Lake Merritt, Oakland, Calif. is the oldest wildlife sanctuary in North America. It is a haven for ducks, geese and other waterfowl and was established by Samuel Merritt soon after the Gold Rush.

earn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

How would one say "blind date" in Spanish? Is there such a thing in Spanish-speaking countries? The expression "blind date" has its origin in the United States and there is no effective counterpart in the Spanish language. A literal translation would be "compromiso ciego." This would not mean the same in Spanish as "blind date" means in English. In Spanish it implies that the date is actually blind.

A better expression for communicating the idea of "blind date" would be "compromiso desconocido" which literally means an "unknown date." Thus we could say "Ella no quiere un compromiso desconocido." for "She does not want a blind date."

As far as the customs in most Spanish-speaking countries, there is very little opportunity for "blind dates." Normally, dating is much more formal there than in the United States. It is, for example, a general requirement that the boy is introduced to the mother and father and receives their approval before he is allowed to date the daughter. In most cases, a younger brother or sister is sent along to chaperon.

Dr. T. Early Opens Office

Tom Early, M.D., a Lemon Grove doctor with the Lemon Grove Medical Group for the past 21 years, has returned from a vacation and opened offices at 5565 Grossmont Center drive, adjacent Grossmont hospital.

Dr. Early, who came to Lemon Grove from internship at Naval Hospital, was subject of a two-page TIME MAGAZINE article at that time. The article described Dr. Early as a practitioner who was training to treat the whole patient at a time when most of the profession were becoming specialists.

He is president of the San Diego Academy of General Practice and Executive Committeeman at Grossmont Hospital.

His new office opened Wednesday.

Talent Needed For CoC Contest

A Talent Contest, sponsored by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, may bring fame and fortune — to some talented local resident.

The contest is to provide participants for the San Diego 200th Talent Contest, according to Hal Lenox, local chairman of the event.

The local contest will be held Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the L.G. Junior High school. Each contestant will be required to make two dissimilar presentations. Judging will be based on appearance, presentation, audience appeal, and versatility. Five members of the Chamber will judge.

The winner will compete in October to become one of three performers who will represent San Diego throughout the State for the bicentennial year according to Lenox.

Applicants may call the chamber office — 469-9621 to leave name, address and phone number. Lenox said he will contact applicants almost immediately.

Power Mower Theft

Barbara L. Logan of 2528 Buena Vista, Lemon Grove, told Sheriff's officials that she was the recent victim of theft. Someone took a power mower from her property.

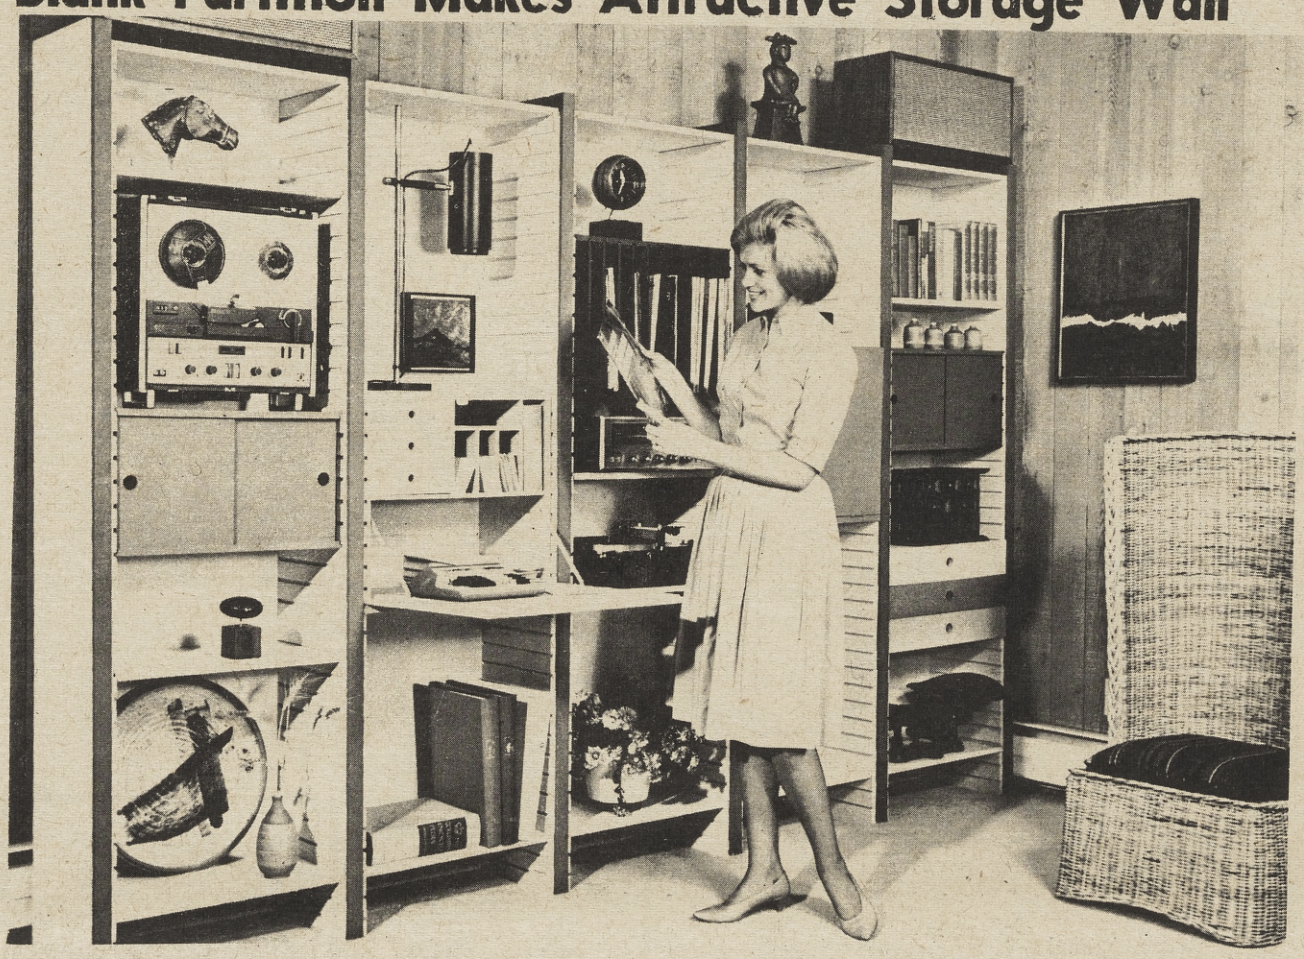
Blank Partition Makes Attractive Storage Wall



This storage wall was designed by the American Plywood Association to utilize a space-consuming interior stud partition. Texture 1-11 (a standard, grooved structural plywood panel) is ingeniously adapted to support shelves and small storage units that slide into its grooves.

Houses are seldom built with enough storage sace to suit every owner. Frequently one of the first chores to take the time of new occupants is that of building storage in corners, attics and basements.

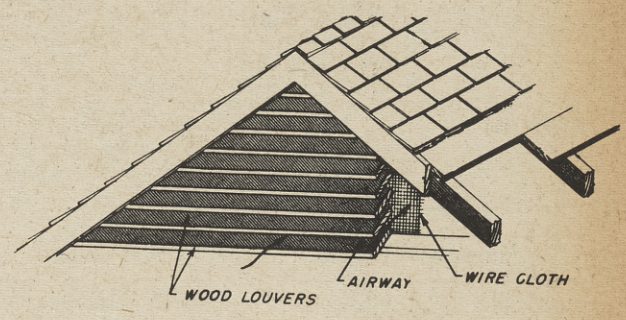
But that bare partition in the living room often defeats the householder, who frequenty capitulates and places a chair and end table against the wall and hangs a couple of pictures above them. He thereby loses much valuable space. The storage wall shown here was designed to utilize this space attractively and flexibly.

Texture 1-11, a square-grooved softwood plywood siding, has been ingeniously adapted to support shelves and small storage units that slide into the grooves at whatever height is preferred.

Not only do the various levels create a contemporary visual pattern, but the spacing flexibility permits the householder to change the shelf height to suit special items with minimum effort.

Plans offered by the American Plywood Association for the interior storage unit specify five sections, with various functions assigned to each. But the builder can eliminate one section of the plan without hurting the overall design.

A plan for this unit storage wall may be obtained by sending 10 cents to the American Plywood Association, 1119 A St., Tacoma, Wash.,



Louver-type ventilator for gable or modified hip roof. Ventilation in attic spaces is an effective means of gaining condensation control in attics. Ventilators placed near the apex of the roof are more effective than those which are placed at lower levels since warm air tends to move upward and out of the building.

A GOOD HOUSEKEEPING GUIDE TO PEST CONTROL

FABRIC-DAMAGING INSECTS	TYPE OF DAMAGE	METHOD OF CONTROL
CARPET BEETLE  CLOTHES MOTH	Destroy clothing and upholstery, materials of animal origin—wool, silk, fur, hair, etc. (damage is caused by larvae, not by adult moth).	Clean clothing, blankets, etc., thoroughly before storing. Remember that laundering and/or dry-cleaning may remove mothproofing. Use paradichlorbenzene (1 lb. fine crystals or flakes per 100 cu. ft.) or naphthalene (where a lingering odor is not offensive) in storage containers. Keep containers tightly sealed. Paradichlorbenzene may also be used in closets if periodically renewed. Do not let paradichlorbenzene come in contact with vinyl plastics. On clothes, use mothproofing sprays containing DDT, Methoxychlor, Perthane or Strobane. Follow label instructions closely for method of application and amount to use. Closets may also be sprayed with DDT, Methoxychlor, Perthane or Strobane.
SILVER FISH 	Damage wallpaper, book bindings and clothing.	Apply 5% DDT in oil or 10% DDT, 5% chlordane, 1% lindane, 5% (maximum) malathion dusts; spray with 2% chlordane, 0.5% lindane, 1% ronnel or 2 to 3% malathion in cracks and crevices. Insecticide-treated paper may be used in drawers and cabinets.
MISCELLANEOUS INSECTS	TYPE OF DAMAGE	METHOD OF CONTROL
SCORPION	Extremely painful sting.	Search premises thoroughly and destroy by mashing any scorpions found. Close all possible entrance holes from the ground. Get rid of possible breeding places near the house, such as rocks, decayed wood, etc. Use 5% DDT spray directly on scorpions.
CENTIPEDE 	Bite may cause severe pain (rare). Otherwise beneficial, since it destroys other insects.	If destruction is desired, mash with shoe or use a pyrethrum dust or spray directly on the centipede. Keep house free of moist places.
SPIDER	Bite of black widow is poisonous. Most other species harmless.	Crush egg sacs as well as adult spider. Or use 2% chlordane, 2% malathion, 0.5% dichlorvos or 0.5% dieldrin.
CRICKET	Damages any soiled fabric, also clean silk and rayon.	To infested places (usually warm and dark) apply 2% chlordane in oil or 5% chlordane dust.
SAND FLY  GNAT 	Annoying bite.	Paint screens, surfaces near light fixtures with 5% DDT in oil or 2% chlordane.

FIRST COMPLETE BOOK ON WALLCOVERINGS TRACES ROMANTIC ORIGINS, TRENDS

"Living Walls," the first complete book on wallpaper and wallcoverings, will be published in October by the Wallcoverings Council. Written by Claire M. Barrows, former Information Bureau Director of the Council, and William Justema, well-known designer and authority on wallcoverings, the new volume brings together all of the fascinating story of this illustrious family of interior decorative products, from romantic origins in ancient China over 2,000 years ago, to today's increasingly popular flexible wallcovering in varied and technically-developed forms, from machine-printed wallpapers to the sophisticated flocks, foils, vinyls and other synthetics, handprints, textures and "strippables."

Written in beautifully readable style, the volume will be profusely illustrated, with 16 pages in full, 4-color illustrations of room settings and striking examples of effective wallcoverings use. More than 100 black and white photographs, drawings and charts will supplement the text throughout.

Importantly, the book will serve not only as a basic background and reference manual on the historical lore, manufacturing techniques, processes and characteristics of wallpaper and wallcoverings, but will offer a storehouse of information, ideas and suggestions on the correct use of color, and the selection of wallcoverings types, patterns and textures for every area in the the home.

A complete glossary, "The Language of Wallcoverings," is included, in explanation for the student and consumer alike, of the myriad of technical definitions and trade terms used in the industry and for its products.

In a final section, "Living Walls" provides full, easy-to-follow instructions, amply illustrated, on the techniques of wallcovering application. Standard machine-printed wallpaper hanging procedures are covered, as well as for special products such as the foils, flocks, murals, vinyls, grasscloths. Simplified enough for the greenest novice, yet in sufficient detail to aid the expert, the application instructions in this new book will go far to dispel any timidity

Canvas-Plywood Combined In Backyard 'Sun-Sled'

The streamlined shape of a fast sled and the comfort of an old-fashioned hammock have been combined into a plywood and canvas "Sun Sled," the newest thing in sun-bathing.

Almost bow-tie in shape, the two plywood sides are connected with dowels and flat plywood cross members at both ends. Canvas is slung between the dowels at each end of the structure to provide a strong hammock.

Painted in any one of a dozen colors, it will make a distinctive addition to any patio. The great strength and durability of plywoods make it a piece of lawn furniture that will last indefinitely and provide many hours of relaxation outdoors.

Easy-to-follow plan No. 55-310, for the construction of this Sun Sled can be obtained for 10 cents from the American Plywood Association, 1119 A St., Tacoma,

New House Might Need Modernizing

A brand new tract house, ideal as it may be, always has room for improvement. The unfinished basement is a prime example of an essential face-lifting for modern living.

Sound planning, accompanied by a bit of inspired dreaming can transform a drab basement into just about anything the family wants: A family playroom, a combination recreation area and home office, a combination of recreational facilities with hobbies and sewing, and the like.

Study Your Project

The smart owners, with such a project in mind, will check over published articles and books and then make their decisions with this background and their own requirements in a happy merger. They can ask the adivce of informed friends, especially if these include a builder or architect, and check with the community building inspector to be sure they are on a sound basis.

They should prepare sketches to put their dreams into black and white and then have them checked by someone who knows about remodeling.

Wall Materials Important

Materials they'll use in the basement face-lifting are a major consideration. They should be selected for their appearance, wearing qualities, paint-holding characterstics, economy and function.

Since the major materials expenditure will involve walls and ceiling, particular attention should be paid to their selection. Many home owners, facing a project of this type, have found Masonite hardboards well suited to the improvement.

A wide variety of interior decorator paneling in Royalcote woodgrains, colors and textures is available at lumber and building materials dealers.

Check Other Factors

Other materials meriting a new home are floor coverings, additional lights, ventilating and heating facilities.

The ABC's, then, of such a project are: Decide what is right for the family's requirements; consult people who know about construction; make a wise selection of building materials, looking to easy installations, good appearance, economy and labor saving upkeep.

For new ideas on home remodeling, send a postcard to Masonite Corp., Box B, Chicago, Ill. 60690, requesting "Something Else Room" booklet.

DECORATORS SHOWCASE HOUSE features bold wallcovering patern in its comfortable, large-scale kitchen. "Swinburne," a leaf motif with decorative leaves 14 inches tall in tones of brown, white and black gives richness and drama to this food center. The pattern is available also in green, orange and yellow colorways. Wallcovering is fully washable and pre-trimmed for easy installation. From the Salon Collection by United/DeSoto.

Return of The Big, Bold Kitchen

While closet-sized efficiency kitchens still hold sway in the smaller apartments, many homeowners are taking the big, bold route to their food centers.

Perhaps the decision is caused by the popularity of the Mediterranean, Spanish or Mexican styling trend which has swept home furnishings designs recently. These furnishings are heavily ornate, commodious in scale and dramatic in appearance.

A kitchen to follow these surroundings also requires the bold approach.

New appliance designs (especially the giant-sized freezer - refrigerator combinations) and the tremendous variety of kitchen cabinet shapes and finishes, abets the move to spacious, king-sized kitchens.

In Modern Homes

Lighting Sets Mood

Whether you are a styling purist or one who prefers to mix periods and styles in furnishing your home, you can count on today's lighting fixtures to play a strong supporting role.

There are more styles and designs on the market than ever, noted the American Home Lighting Institute.

If your taste runs to pure styling, from the ornate, highly crafted elegance of traditional furniture to the sleek, streamlined silhouette of modern, most lighting showrooms offer dozens of models that can perfectly accent your design mode.

But with today's freedom of mixing to create a contemporary look, or "eclectic," the lighting style takes on added importance.

Room to Room Change

Frequently there is little mixing of style in any single room or area. The greatest changes in appearance and the mood we create occur from room to room.

By changing the style of lighting fixtures, we achieve the desired effect surely and easily.

Why?

In nature's scheme of things, our eyes and our entire "seeing system" play a key role in how we react to our environment. We see faster than we hear or smell or feel.

Because our eyes are immediately and automatically attracted to light, interior designers employ the principle to select fixtures.

Thus, when you spot a crystal chandelier in a dining area, even from a distance, you expect to find a formal, elegant dining room.

Subconscious Reaction

Directing your attention elsewhere, you may find a cluster of lighting pendants covered with mosaic tile. This flashes the message to your brain — probably subconsciously — that the area is still elegant but somewhat less formal than the dining area.

And if, upon entering the den, you find a pair of chandeliers consisting of wagon wheels and hob-nail glass, you know instantly that this Early American setting is where the family takes its shoes off and lets its hair down.

Besides taking advantage of physical laws to use lighting fixtures as instant identifiers of the decorating scheme, designers are using ample lighting to extract the full beauty of colors, patterns and tones in our furnishings.

More Hot Water During Hot Months

The average family's water using equipment has just about doubled in the last 10 years, according to the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau. And that same family uses nearly twice as much hot water during the summer months as it does the rest of the year. This places an extra-heavy burden on your water heater, the Bureau points out.

If you're constantly running out of hot water, you probably need a bigger capacity tank or a heater with a faster "recovery rate." (That means the heater replenishes its hot water supply faster.) Many older homes have hot water heaters that are only 30-gallon or have a slow recovery rate. They were installed when the household's water needs were less or because the builder skimped on the heater to cut costs. Such heaters are obsolete even if they're still functioning smoothly from the mechanical standpoint.

Most families today need a 40 or 50-gallon heater to keep them in hot water at all times.

Keeping Lumber In Condition

Wood swells and shrinks with changes in moisture content. Across the grain these changes may be large, along the grain they are usually negligible. It is important, therefore, that the lumber used in a house be thoroughly seasoned. It must be remembered that, while seasoned lumber and well-seasoned and intelligently manufactured millwork may be specified and deliverd on the job, the value of these precautions may be sacrificed if the material is not protected from the weather before and during installation.

Alter Room Shape With Tile Floor

A long, narrow room can be made to appear larger by installing a striped flooring. The Better Floors Council sugests alternate rows of vinyl asbestos tile, which is available in many colors and patterns and can be installed by do-it-yourselfers.

Hotel Conveniences In Your Kitchen

Many hotel and motel rooms now feature automatic ice-making machines or instant hot and ice-water dispensers for the convenience of guests. With so many Americans traveling these days, people are exposed to these little comforts, creating a demand for them for the home, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau says. Another device that's growing in popularity is the plumbed-in coffee-maker. All are available from your plumbing contractor.
